MSSM User Name and Password

Most databases, electronic journals and electronic books require remote users to identify themselves with their MSSM User Name and Password.

To use these resources

- Select the electronic journal, book, or database you wish to use
- You will be prompted to log-on to licensed resources with your MSSM ID & Password

Resource Login

You are accessing a resource that requires you to confirm your affiliation with The Mount Sinai Medical Center.

If you are affiliated with the Medical Center, you may login with your MSSM ID and password. If you are unsure of your MSSM ID, you may check the computer-based services login page or you may call the Medical School Computing help desk at (212) 241-7091.

If you are not affiliated with the Medical Center, you will not be able to access this resource.

MSSMID
Password

- You may look up your User Name online at <http://develop1.mssm.edu/>
 - Your MSSM user name usually includes the first five letters from your last name, your first initial, and a number such as 01.
 - Some hypothetical examples of user names are “davisk02”, and “weinsm01”
- Your MSSM Password is set to your Life Number by default.
 - Drop the first number of your life number, if it begins with a zero. For example, 0999999 should be entered as 999999

If you need further assistance with your MSSM User Name or with your Password, please contact the Media Resource Center (MRC) at 212-241-7091 or ext. 47793.
