The Department of Obstetrics, Gynecology, and Reproductive Science at Mount Sinai School of Medicine offers a broad range of services to women of all ages. State-of-the-art facilities and technology, as well as preeminent professional staff, combine to establish the department's place in the forefront of women's health care.

The Friends Executive Committee of the Department of Obstetrics, Gynecology, and Reproductive Science is a group of people committed to enhancing health care for women at Mount Sinai. The Friends sponsor fundraising events and educational programs to support the primary objective of Mount Sinai: excellent care achieved through first-rate service, research, education, and training.

Woman to Woman is a peer to peer support program that partners newly diagnosed patients at The Mount Sinai Hospital with survivors of gynecologic cancer. Trained volunteers provide information and emotional support to women before, during and after treatment for gynecologic cancer. Volunteer survivors offer empathy, understanding, companionship, and hope to patients facing a new cancer diagnosis. Woman to Woman was initiated by Valerie Goldfein and created by the Mount Sinai Auxiliary Board, the Mount Sinai Department of Obstetrics, Gynecology, and Reproductive Science and the Mount Sinai Department of Social Work.

The Jo Carole and Ronald S. Lauder Center for Maternity Care integrates the principles of family-centered care with boutique-hotel design to set a new standard for hospital-based postpartum care. Women and their families can now celebrate the experience of birth in a modern, healthful, and soothing environment that complements the outstanding quality of care for which Mount Sinai physicians, nurses, and staff are already known.
